

Are You Ready to Move School Libraries to the Forefront of 21st Century Education?
RIEMA Presents

Empowering Learners with the AASL Standards for the 21st Century Learner

Presented by
Jamie Greene, LMS, RIEMA President
Darshell Silva, LMS, UCAP

MARK YOUR CALENDAR!

*Monday, November 2, 2009
4:00 PM - 6:00 PM
Lippitt Elementary School
30 Almy Street
Warwick, RI 02886*

This workshop is an introduction to the AASL Standards for the 21st Century Learner and will begin the process of deepening our understanding of the standards and examining common beliefs. Participants will look at the four standards and corresponding four strands, indicators, benchmarks, behaviors, stages of development, and questioning strategies. Through small group work library media specialists will compare and contrast the 21st Century Standards with the previous nine Information Literacy Standards. There will also be an overview of the four-step lesson design.

This workshop will be repeated three more times during the school year. Mark your calendar for one of the following sessions if you can't attend the first session:

Wednesday, January 6, 2010 Exeter-West Greenwich High School

Wednesday, March 3, 2010 Ponaganset Middle School

Wednesday, April 14, 2010 East Bay Educational Collaborative

The above sessions will be presented by Darshell Silva, LMS

To register and get directions go to <http://www.rilink.org/registrationAASLOne.htm>

Please contact Joan Wollin at Wollinfamily@cox.net
if you have any questions

