Research on the reading interests of boys has recently received a lot of attention, but where's the research on reading programming for boys? We'll discuss a couple real-life case studies of book clubs that were meant to attract boys. Come find out what succeeded and share your own experiences, too. Participants will leave with a list of resources as well as some specific strategies for making book clubs more boy-friendly. Participants are encouraged to bring a book that could be used with a boy's group.
